

STUDENT HOMETOWN NEWS FORM

Throughout a student's college career there are times when the College of Charleston will send information regarding your successes and achievements to the media. Particularly, we realize how important it is to family and friends that these accomplishments are noted in your hometown paper. To do this accurately, we require the name of the local newspaper(s) most likely to publish this kind of information (not The New York Times, for example, if you live in Queens).

Provide the name(s) of the newspaper (include city and state) where the College can send information in the spaces below.
